An aerial photograph of the archaeological site of Lachish. The central feature is a large, roughly rectangular stone wall, partially excavated, revealing the foundations of buildings within. The wall is surrounded by a wide, flat area of earth and some sparse vegetation. To the left of the wall, there is a dense forest of tall, thin trees. In the bottom left corner, there are several large, rectangular structures with corrugated metal roofs, likely modern buildings or storage units. The surrounding landscape is a mix of brown, tilled fields and green, uncultivated land. In the background, more fields and a line of trees are visible under a clear sky.

A photograph of a sunset over the Sea of Galilee. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the horizon, casting a long, shimmering reflection across the dark water. The sky is filled with soft, golden clouds, and the distant shoreline is visible as a dark silhouette. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.
